

This Week's Training Summary

Week 9 of PPL x2 · 21 Jul – 27 Jul 2026 · Generated 28 Jul 2026

HOW THIS WEEK WENT

0 of 6 sessions trained this week — the worst week in 30 days. Volume fell from 21,340 kg·reps last week to 0. Every muscle group is now below the minimum stimulus threshold needed to retain muscle on a calorie deficit.

CRITICAL

Lateral Raise (V-taper KPI) last logged on Mon 13 Jul at 10 kg × 14 reps — not performed in the 2 weeks since. The 3-week improvement streak (+1 rep/week: 12 → 13 → 14) has stalled. Love handles at lat-width level make shoulder-width gains the single most impactful visual lever right now.

DOWN

PPL programme is 9 weeks old (started 24 May 2026) — zero Push/Pull/Legs split sessions logged in the entire 30-day export. All 14 sessions remain Full Body A/B/C. Tuesday Pull A and Thursday Push B days have never been trained.

CRITICAL

Hip Thrust: 0 sets in 30 days (APT corrective unfulfilled). Dead Bug / Bird-Dog: 0 sets in 30 days (T8–T12 kyphosis corrective unfulfilled). Rear delts: 2.3 sets/week average vs 8-set target — front-to-rear shoulder imbalance raises rotator cuff impingement risk at 44.

CRITICAL

Friday Full Body C + Saturday Chest/Shoulder sessions ran back-to-back all 3 active weeks (Jul 3/4, Jul 10/11, Jul 17/18) — only ~24h between chest and shoulder stimulus vs the required 48h. Also: 9 of 14 sessions exceeded the 60-minute programme cap (longest: 97 min).

LOW

DO THIS NEXT WEEK (W10)

Switch Monday to Push A (not Full Body A) — Bench Press 65 kg 4×8, Chest Fly 65 kg 3×10, Shoulder Press Machine 90 kg 3×8, Lateral Raise 10 kg 3×12, Skullcrusher 20 kg 3×12, then Dead Bug 3×10. Target out in 55 min. This starts the actual PPL programme in Week 10.

Log Hip Thrust on Wednesday Legs A and Saturday Legs B — start at 40 kg Wednesday, step to 60 kg Saturday. Focus on glute squeeze at the top, not lower-back extension. This is 9 weeks overdue for APT correction. If Hip Thrust is missing on either Legs day, APT remains unaddressed and squat/deadlift injury risk stays elevated.

3

Lateral Raise in every Push session (Monday Push A + Thursday Push B)

— target 10 kg × 15 reps on Monday, or step up to 12 kg × 8 if available. Two weeks without it has stalled the V-taper KPI. The shoulder silhouette is the primary visual lever against love handles at lat-width level — this must not be skipped two weeks running again.
